

Discussion on “Game With a Purpose”

Analysis of the game

- What is the main purpose of the game?
- How does it help the computer?
- What makes the game useful and successful?
- Other interesting points you have observed?

Design new games

This is a task that let you and your groups design a new game with a purpose. In your group discussion, please first brainstorm some possible areas where new games can help computers do better jobs. Then begin working on the design of the new game. In your final design, please specify the following aspects clearly:

- The purpose
- Basic structure
- Details
- Where can the game be applied?
- How can it help the computer?
