

A quarter of the class did not take the quiz. This was a little disheartening. Quizzes actually serve a pedagogical purpose and are not meant to be optional. Please take them!

Of those who took the quiz, seven people got one question wrong and one person got two wrong. The numbers in parentheses below shows the number of people who missed each question.

1. When posting on the discussion forum, select “post privately” if you want to remain anonymous.
false (1)
2. It is considered a violation of academic integrity to post part of a homework solution or a homework hint.
true (2)
3. A private post will never be made public. false (1)
4. All course announcements will be posted on Canvas. false (0)
5. Students may request deadline extensions in any multiple of 24 hours (up to a 72-hour limit for the semester) for too much work in other courses. true (0)
6. Students may collaborate with a partner on homework assignments. true (1)
7. In homework questions, if you are asked only to “show” and not to “prove,” a formal proof is not required.
false (4)
8. On the homework, scanned or photographed handwritten solutions are acceptable. false (0)